Erica Hausdorff is an associate in the Firm's Litigation Division and focuses her practice on the representation of public and private entities in connection with employment matters.

Prior to joining the Firm, Erica practiced at a law firm in South Florida where she focused on litigation matters, such as first-party property litigation and insurance defense. Before law school, Erica was a legal intern for the Human Trafficking Division at the Miami-Dade State Attorney's Office where she attended depositions, analyzed evidence by collaborating with detectives, and accompanied the Assistant State Attorney to all hearings.

During law school, Erica was a member of the FIU Law Review and a competitor for the Moot Court team.
